Eton from Bamspool Bridge. A good general view of Eton is obtained from this bridge, which has been in existence in one form or another ever since the foundation of Eton College. A trust was said to be founded in the thirteenth century for keeping up the bridge, but the first reliable information was obtained in the year 1592, when certain property to the value of £196 18s. 0d. was purchased with money granted for that purpose by letters patent of Elizabeth. The property has now increased in value, and the profits made out of the trust are devoted to charitable purposes.
